The Victoria Hutel is an adjunct of no mean importance, and would let for an enormous rental. The premises occupied as the London Mart, if conducted by a skillul restau act, would also bring in a very large amount of profit. These, with the Victoria Theatre, would certainly yield some thousands a year.

What a splendid chance is this for the investment of capital! What more safe, more certain, or more profitable; and what a glorious opportunity for a few lovers of the Drama to realize a SPREDY FORTUNE, by forming themselves into a private company But it is idde to attempt to enumerate the advantages attached to this most valuable property: they can only be learnt or understood by personal investigation.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIA-

LECTURE will be delivered to th A above Association, by the Rev. Dr. Ross, at the School of Arts, Pitt-atreet, on the Brening of Wednesday, the 26th instant. Subject—An answer to the question, Is the Religion of Jesus Christ true?

Heads of families and ladies are respectfully invited. Admittance free, Doors will be opened at 7 o'clock, and the chair taken at half-past. JOHN J. DAVIES, Secretary.

PROSPECTUS OF THE YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION OF SYDNEY, N. S. WALES.

THE great want observed to exist here by many persons who are anxious for the moral and intellectual advancement of this country, and felt especially by young more who earnestly desire to keep pace with the march of mind in our Fatherland, seems to be the absence of those helps and guides, and means of improvement, which such an apparatus as the present Association is calculated to afford.

Batablished on the most catholic principles, comprehending every branch of Protestant Christianty, it embraces in its means the following objects, viz.—Devotional Meetings, Classes for Biblical Instruction, the Delivery of Lectures on Scriptural Subjects, Biography, History, and the Arts and Sciences, together with a Library of Useful Knowledge for reference and circulation.

In England, within the last ten years, such institutions have been patronized by the wise and the good of all classes, and have been sc-HE great want observed to exist in England, within the last ten years, such institutions have been patronized by the wise and the good of all classes, and have been acknowledged as contributing in no small degree to her present greatness. And it is confidently hoped that this Association will not be permitted to languish here from want of pecuniary support.

enects of this method of cure to be called in question.

It is sufficiently proved that the communication of the Magnetic Vital Fluid is capable of removing the most obstinate maladies.

If now, the inventor of these pills has, after many years of study and reflection at last succeeded in connecting this fluid, so indispensable to life, and the health of every human being, with a vehicle, for the purpose of its being administered according to the requirements of the patient, it will then cease to be regarded as matter of marvel, if it is asserted here—"That by the agency of these pills, not only the above maladies can be subjugated and cured, but also the health and life of the individual be preserved, and invigorated to a and cured, but also the health and life of the individual be preserved, and invigorated to a prolonged period."

Facts have demonstrated that debilitated individuals, at the advanced age of 76, have perceived their complicated ailments to yield successively, and renewed manly vigour to follow, from a persevering use of the Magnetic Universal Pill.

This affirmation is most strikingly borne out by the fact, that the hair, which had turned grey on the head of persons at this advanced age, has gradually regained its original colour. The sleeeplessness incident to this advanced periol of life changes by the virtues of these pills into refreshing and recutiting alumbers.

Any interrupted activity of the skin is

All Hemorrhoidal disorders, even in the highest degrees, can be radically cured by the Hypochondria by the use of this remedy is converted into a cheerful and placid feeling. Persons suffering under Fever can re-esta-blish their health by having recourse to this remedy.

The entire Nervous System acquires renewed vigour and vitality.

Mervous debility, whether originating in excessive indulgence, or the result of exhaustion from painful suffering, childbirth, &c., are sure of finding relief from these pills.

Spasms, of whatever denomination, will find our from the University Pills.

Weakness of vision will infallibly be strengthened.
Disorders hitherto accounted cureless, as, Pulmonary and Stomach Complaints, Consumption, Melancholy, Herpetic Bruptions &c., have, as experience has shewn, been effectually checked by the use of these pills.
Mercury that has remained in the body for years, and which it is found so difficult to extrude, is infallibly removed by the use of she Universal Pill, the system being freed thereby from all nozious substances and acquiring renewed vigour.

Universal Pill, the system being trees unercoy from all nonious substances and acquiring renewed vigour.

With a view to securing the restorative effects above indicated, it is requisite to take 12 Pills daily the first week, 3 at a time at 4 equal intervals,—the second week, the like number at 3 equal intervals, 4 Pills each time, after which, it suiting, the dose may be apportioned to 6 Pills at night and 5 in the morning.

On the patient's becoming sensible of a feeling of relief, the cure will be greatly accelerated by his increasing gradually the dose from 12 to 24 Pills.

No one need fear any derangement in reference to his daily motions, as the operation of these Pills is neither purgative nor obstructive, but induces regulated evacuations.

Regular habits, strict abstinence from spiritous liquors, the copious drinking of good pure water, will greatly favour, while irregular living will much retard, the desired effect.

IN announcing to the public of Sydney and neighbourhood the opening of the above central and commodious premises on or about the lat of November, as a Wholesale and Retail Boot and Shoe Warehouse, we beg to solicit attention to the principles on which we intend to conduct our business.

1. From the present high rate of wages paid in this c-lony to werkmen, it is selfevident that the chief supplies of boots and shoes must be imported from England; we have, accordingly, made the necessary arrangements for securing regular monthly supplies of every description, and adapted for all classes of the community.

the community.

2. We purpose adopting the system so thoraughly carried out and so highly appreciated in London and other large cities, of SMALL PROPITS and QUICK RETURNS; and to do justice to all classes, the LOWEST PRICE will be marked in PLAIN FIGURES PRICE will be marked in PLAIN FIGURES on every article. Our terms will therefore be READY MONEY, and NO ABATEMENT from the price marked.

From the faithful carrying out of these principles, and the supplying a realy sterling good article at a very moderate figure, we hope to receive a fair share of the favours of the public. N.B. - Further particulars will appear in future advertisements.

The ship at the same time parted in pieces, and all hands were swept away. The survivers can give no account of the manner in which those who perished met their fate; but as Captain Brown's head was fright-fatly lacerack, when his body was found, it is supposed he must have been killed by some portion of the wreck. The names and occupations of the others who perished were, Xr. William Farthing, of Bristol, second officer. WRECK OF THE BARRICE POSTRUMOUS, AT KIAPARA (From the New Zeakunder, Sept 28)

The Posthumous was a well known ressel in the East India and colonial trade, of from 500 to 800 tons burshen. Originally tuits at Liverpool in 1798, she had withstood thirty-six years of hard wear and toar in employ, and went to various quarters of the globe, when in 1834, she was burnt to the water's edge whilst lying in the West India Bocks, London. On examination after the accident she proved so sound in her lower works that she was dowled, lengthened, and simout rebuilt. She received a new classification at Lioyd's and passed into the hands of Mesarc, Marshall and Eirige, the well known ship agents of London, by whom she has since then been regulerly supplyed in the Australian trade up to became the property of her late owners. THE STEAM MARINE.

CAPTAIN HOSEASON'S pamphlet, to which we briefly referred last week, contains so much information on the important subject of which it treats, that as there are no copies of it for sale, we have determined to give a pretty full summary of its contents. It is in the shape of a letter to Sir James Graham, the First Lord of the Admiralty, and purports to have been written from a feeling of disestifaction at the present state of naval affairs, and more especially at the disclosures before the House of Commons, Committee, on Naval Estimates. Captain Hoseason is evidently aware that he is considered a bit of a bore, for he prefixes as a motto, the following amusing extract from Sydney Smith:

Whether Mr. Hamilton is or is not the inventor of the system [of education] that bears his name or what his system [of education] that bears his name or what his system [of education] that bears his name or what his system [of education] that bears his name or what his system [of education] that bears his name or what his system [of education] that bears his name or what his system [of education] that bears his name or what his system [of education] that bears his name or what his system [of education] that bears his name or what his system [of education] that bears his name or what his system [of education] that bears his name or what his system [of education] that bears his name or what his system [of education] that bears his name or what his system [of education] that bears his name or what his part of the contractors to the eartest and well informed contractors the best chance, and led to the development of many important improvements, and especially the more rapid introduction of tubular boolers. He shows that by this system the contractors the best chance, and led to the development of many important improvements, and especially to home rapid the more rapid introduction of tubular boolers. extract from Sydney Smith:—

Whether Mr. Hamilton is or is not the inventer of the system [of education] that bears his name or what his claims to originality may be, are also questions of very second rate importance; but they merit a few observations. That man is not the discoverer of any art, who first says the thing; but he who says it so long, so lond, and so clearly, that he compale mankind to hear him. The man who is so deeply impressed with the importance of the discovery that he will take no denial, but, at the risk of fortone or tame, pushes through all opposition, and is determined that what he thinks he has discovered shall not perish for want of a fair trial. Other persons had noticed the effect of coal-gas in producing light; but Wissor worried the town with bed English for three winters before he could attract any serious attention to his views. Many persons bruke stose before Macadam, but Macadam felt the discovery more strongly, stated it more clearly, persecred in it with greater teneity, wielded his hammer, in short, with greater force than other men, and finally succeeded in bringing his plan into general use.

For twelve years has Captvin Hosenson been endeavouring to induce the Admiralty to adopt his suggestions, and we suppose he intends to continue to do so until either he or his opponents are warn out.

Captain Hosenson commences by stating that continue to do so until either he or his opponents are win out.

Captain Hosesson commences by stating that "a general opinion pervades the public mind, that that important branch of the avail profession, the steam branch, has of late years neither been efficiently nor economically administered." This he accounts for by asserting that "the engineer rarely looks at the matter with the eyes of a scaman; nor a seaman with with the eyes of a seaman; nor a seaman with those of an engineer sor the gunnery officer with the eyes of either: each is intent upon the consideration of the argument merely as it affects his own particular view, whilst the un-fortunate naval architect is too often required to construct a vessel without having a most distant conception of the weights she is ulti-mate doomed to carry." This may be called the author's text.

of the Steam Navy stated, that he found the nautical, and the Chief Engineer the scientific, experience, fr m which Captain II weason a gues that having both the knowledge of the factory and the science on his side, the engineer was virtually uncontrolled. But, he centends, that "the farulty of suggesting important improvements in steam navigation will, in most cases emanate from those who with an intimste knowledge of their profession as seamen, combine a correct acquaintance of the principles of the marine engine and its practical results as observed upon the open ocean. ""Nothing can be more fallacious than the opinions deduced from the performances of steamers on the measured mile in the river Thames or is Stokes Bay; and yet such must necessarily be the extent of the practical knowledge of the Chief Government Ragineer." There appears to be common sense in this, and it explains in some degree the failure of the Australian the Adelaide, and several other vessels connected with these colonies, which were reported so favourably of on their experimental trips, and when they got to sea were found to be miscrable failures.

We now make a long ex ract to shew what improvements, in his own opinion, Captain Hoseason has been the menus of effecting:—

I returned to England in 1842, to bring a series of important subjects under the consideration of the high retainments. I was in constant communication with that distinguished officer, until I was placed in command of Her Majery's steamer Infeatible in 1843. I received a Special Board promotion for my services during the administration of the light Hon. the Earl of Haddington, and subsequently had permission granted me by the Earl of Stoken of the Staff Haddington, and subsequently had permission granted me by the prove processing that which I had previously demonstrated by a chain of reasoning.

The propositions brought forward by me during the strated by a chain of reasoning.

The Provincial Council of New Plymouth The Provincial Council of New Plymouth met for the despatch of business on the 16th September. The Superintendent opened the Council with a congratulatory speech; after which, Mr. Isaac Newton Watt was elected Speaker, and the Council appointed a Committee to settle Standing Orders. The New Plymouth Council is the first of the new local legislatures that has met.

We have some extracts which we are compelled to defer until a future issue.

the quartz through the agency just named (electricity and heat) having become disposeesed of its gold, the quartz and gold might have been swept into the interstices of the pipeclay by the aid of water. Thus we find gold and quartz imbedded in the clay, but that the gold has been in any one instance found generated throughout the pipeclay I do not for one moment believe. Yet, with this explanation, we are as far off as ever from the solution of the question of the existence or non-existence of gold underneath the great bed of pipeclay; and it cannot but be admitted that in the minds of those who think on the gold-fields, the matter is one of the greatest moment. It is deep and absorbing to a degree unparalleled in the history of our gold-fields. A handsome prize should be awarded to the first ardent band who are bold enough to set the subject at rest.

To pass an opinion on the results which would follow in the event of the question being proved in the affirmative, id est, that gold exists in remunerating quantities below the pipeclay, would be almost presumptuous. Whether it would be discovered more equally diffused than it has hitherto been found, whether in lumps which would throw the famous Canadian Gully specimens into the shade, are matters resting on the inquiry. Some of the men of Bendigo engaged in the trade, declare that go through the pipeclay they will, if it is possible for men to do so; and the occasional bursts of thunder which assail our ears on the Bendigo, until the hills shake, and the valleys echo and re-echo the peals, attest the determination with which the peak, attest the determination with which they follow up their intention. Through the pipeclay itself they make their way easily, but occasionally they come upon sandstone as hard as ad-mant, and the aid of blasting powder is called into action.

Police Office.—A very much improved attendance of unpaid magistrates marked the past week, no fewer than six of the ten composing the roster having given their attendance, namely—Meesrs. Broughton, T. W. Campbell, Chambers, Darley, Darvall, and Deloitte. The sppointments for the present week are as under: Monday (this day), Ociober 24, Captun Dumaresq and Mr. Henry Pisher; Tuesday, Mr. Gilchrist and Mr. Harquee; Wednesday, Mr. Hill and Mr. Huntley; Thursday, Mr. Juschpison and Ms. Huntley; Thursday, Mr. Juschpison and Ms. Murain.
CRICKET.—We understand that the return match between the Parramatta "eleven" and the Royal Victoria Club has now been finally arranged to take place on Monday, the 7th November, on the Hyde Park gr. and. Sydney. We also learn that there is every probability of a context coming off during the ensuing month between the married and single cricketers of the above ground.

Hussey then pitched into Kinneally in gallant style, striking and kicking, until at length assistance arrived, and the uproarious obstreperous Ribbonman was overpowered and conveyed to the watchhouse. On Baturday he was fined 40s. and costs. After paying the penalty, he addressed the Superintendent of Police (who had just entered the Court), on the brutality of the constabulary in conveying him to the watchhouse; Mr. M'Leric informed him he would attend to any complaint he had to make in the private room, but the busix ess of the Court could not be stayed for the purpose.

VOLUNTARYIM IN VICTORIA.—The Presbyterians of Victoria have a quer notion of the "voluntary principle," it would seem. They are too proud to sceept the sid of Government in a legitimate way, and yet they are not above begging alms by an indirect and disreputable "dodge," from the general public. At iacident at Melbourne the other day is a curious illustration of evangelical independence and consistency. The United Presbyterian Church required two sections of town land, for some gurpose of their own, and being debarred "on principle" from saking them from Government, they issued a printed notice to the public on the day of sale, requesting them to be so kind as not to bid against the Church for the two covered sections! The auctioner very properly protested against the Enurch for the two covered sections! The auctioner very properly protested against the Surioner servery properly protested against the Surioner servery properly protested against the interference with the freedom of competition, and the bidding went on, as usual—the public not being charitable enough to let the Presbyterian have the land at their own price. Now it does appear somewhat strange that those who object, as a matter of connecience, to receiving extraneous support for their Church, should thus stoop to accept the charity of the public—all of whom are not Presbyterians. The distinction, we caffee, is too nice for our conception. Those neither honourable nor consistent. — Englishman Hiddway Robbery.—Information reached Sydney on Saturday that two persons, named Anson and Stewart, were stopped on the Windsor Road, near Parramatta, about eight o clock on Thursday night, by four men with English secent, and their faces so enshrouded in worsted coinforters as to render further description out of the question, who, after tying them up to a tree, overhauled their pockets and took away the contents. From Anson was taken 22s. in silver and two pocket pistols, and from Stewart is., a knife, and a comb. The thieres are supposed to be a party of diggers on their way to the Turon, and have committed this robbery to furnish themselves with necessarise on the road. The sufferers were not released until one o'clock on Friday morning.

CAPTURE OF ANOTHER OF THE ARMED STREET ROBBING GANG—At a late hour on Saturday night, Inspector Higgins apprehended a man in one of the singua; and dancing saloons of a Pitt-street tavern, for being one of the gang of desperadors, who have lately been so notorious in the suburbs of the city. It was stated a day or two ago in the paper, that inspectors Singleton and Higgins stopped four men in Parramatta-street, having reason to believe that they were armed, and intent upon robbing the passers-by. Mr. Singleton took one of them named Towers, who was found to have a leaded double-barrelled pistol in his pocket. Mr. Singleton afterwards took another man named to W. Thomas. At the time the officers stopped the four footpads, Mr. Higgins laid hold of one of them by the coat, but he escaped by slipping off his coat which r mained in the inspector's hands, and was found to contain a double-barrelled and a single barrelled pistol, both capped and loaded. This is the man captured by Mr. Higgins as above narrated on caturday night. He refused to give his name. He as a powerful loaking man, and goes by the soubriquet of "Awathy."

We regret to announce the death of Charles Bridgen, Esq., Assistant Commissary-General in tharge of the Department at New Zealand, which took place at his residence in Auckland, on Thursday, the 6th instant. Mr. Bridgen was fifty-eight years of age, and has had long service in the Commissariat Department. He served in Portugal in 1813, and was subsequently sent out to assist in winding up the papers connected with the Peninsular war. He has last served in the Australian colonies for twenty years. He arrived here, however, from Melbourne, only a few months age, to relieve Philip Turner, Esq. His health had for some time been declining, and prevented his being as generally known as he might otherwise have been; but where he was known he was universally respected.—New Zealander,

ENGLISH NEWS GREAT BRITAIN.

THE arrival of the Golden Spring, Captain M'Veigh, puts us in possession of the news by the Great Britain. She arrived in Hobson's Bay on the afternoon of the 16th instant. The Golden Spring sailed the following morning, and by her we have a special packet of Melbourne papers.

We are indebted for the whole of the following to the MELBOURNE MORNING HERALD of the 17th instant.

By the arrival of the Great Britain steam ship yesterday, we have Fnglish papers to the 11th August; this fine vessel having made the passage in sixty-one days sailing, with four days detention at 8t. Vincent.

Before we proceed to consider the con-tents of the Journals thus received, we append the communications of our Ply-mouth correspondent, including a dupli-cate of his letter forwarded to us by the Vimiers, mail contract ship, which vessel sailed from Plymouth on the fifth of August.

Plymouth, August 10th, 1853.

My last communication was despatched hence by the Vimiera, mail contract ship, on the evening of the 5th instant. The satisfactory despatch of this ship, and her quick passage round from London, against a head wind, induces the hope that her passage to your shores will be a speedy one. Much credit is due to Captain Nestby for the admirable order into which he had got the Vimiera, and the excellent arrangement he had made for the safety of the mails, &c. The last mailbag was hoisted in at Plymouth Sound at bag was hoisted in at Plymouth Sound at 5-15 P.M. on Friday, the 5th instant, and in less than fifteen minutes from that time the ship was under way, and at 6.15 P.M. Mr. Wilcocks, the despatching agent at Plymouth, with the pilot, left her ont-side the breakwater making her course.

A Public Meeting originated by the friends of Mrs. Chisholm, was held at the London Tavern, yesterday, for the purpose of adopting measures to present that excellent lady with a testimonial previous to her departure for Australia. The Times, in a portion of its leading article of the 8th instant, pays a well merited tribute to the sterling worth and valuable services of Mrs. Chisholm. It is understood that a telegraphic despatch has been received by her Majesty's Government from Vienna, to the effect that the Emperor of Russia has accepted that the Emperor of Russia has acce, ted the propositions of the four powers. We may therefore hope for a speedy termina-tion of the prolonged crisis which has already produced serious loss and em-barras-ment, and threatened such serious consequences to the peace of the world. Entire confidence, however, cannot be placed in any declaration of the Russian Government, until it has been followed Government, until it has been followed by an immediate compliance with the terms proposed.

The Russian armies must therefore be withdrawn from the occupation of any portion of the Turkish territories, and anxiety must consequently be felt until the fuller details we may very soon expect, reach us, as to the extent of the terms to which Russia the extent of the terms to which Russia assents.

The Eastern Steam Navigation Company, in their half-yearly report, state that their first ship will be ready in eighteen months. Its length is to be 680 feet, built of iron in ten compartments, propelled both by screw and paddle, 2600 horse power, 10,000 tons, to carry 500 first-cabin passengers at £65, and a large number at £35 and £25; period of the voyage to be 32 days to India, and 35 to Australia. After this, we shall only require a bridge to render our communication with you perfect.

Notwithstanding the efforts of England and France to reconcile the differences between the Emperor of Russia and the Sul-tan, affairs continue to assume a very warlike appearance. Russia having crossed the Pruth, and occupied Moldavia, is seekthe Fruth, and occupied moldavia, is seening, with apparent success, to extrange that province from its allegiance to the Porte. Prince Ghika, Hospodar of Moldavia, has informed the Divan that he must break off all communication with the Sultan's Government, and that he would in future pay no tribute, and in short, renounce his allegiance. Letters from Constantinople to the 19th July state that the Porte proposes to address an ultimatum to Russia, in which the Sultan declares that if the Czar persists in offering war, the Porte is resolved to accept it.

In the House of Lords, on the 2nd August, in reply to Lord Clanricarde, the Lord Changellor stated that instructions had been sent to Sir Hamilton Seymour to demand an explanation from the Russian Government with respect to a communication which the Hospodar of Moldavia had received from the Russian Consul General in that principality.

A fleet chiefly composed of steamships, carrying upwards of 1200 guns is now assembled at Portsmouth, at the head of which is the screw three decker Duke of Wellington, 131 guns, and 780 horse-power. This powerful armament is irrespective of the British fleet now lying at anchor in Besika Bay, with a similar force from France. The combined flags are waiting advices from London and Paris, to give a check to the further advances of Russia upon Turkey.

The correspondence from Paris, Berlin, Vienna, and nearly all the continental cities, is confined almost exclusively to the untoward aspect of affairs between the Emperor of Russia and the Sultan.

In 1849, Copenhagen escaped the cho-lera, which visited almost all its neightotal number afflicted is 4759, and the to our summary to morrow, when we entirely unprecedented, has been that of the London cabmen. Disputes with this abusive class had at length become so abusive class had at length become so intolerable, that in order to simplify charges, a scale of sixpence per mile was adopted, and no back fare allowed, and the nearest magistrate was empowered to adjudicate. A cabman named Phillips, demurred to the alleged distance which he had conveyed a fare, and in a friendly spirit the parties appealed to a magistrate, who demanded five shillings each from the applicants to pay for measuring the distance. The cabman could not produce a crown-piece, and was sent to prison. This decision, and the non-payment of back fare, exasperated the frateraity, who first wreaked their vengeance on members of Parliament, and ceance on members of Parliament, and their friends. When the House broke up plenty of cabs were to be seen, but the drivers kept them in motion and pretended they were engaged, and the representatives of the people had to walk to their residences. The same game was played outside the most fashionable theatres.

Finding their was no alteration in the law, one morning not a cab was to be seen. confusion prevailed, -waggons, carts, spring-vans, and all sorts of conveyances were pressed into service; and by permission of the authorities, unlicensed vehicles from the country were allowed to ;ly for hire. The evil was fast beginning to cure itself, when Parliament having slightly modified cab law, the legitimate whips were once more taken in hand. Setting aside the temporary inconvenience, it is almost a pity that they should so soon have resumed their vocation. It was ob-served that, in their absence, the streets served that, in their absence, the streets of London were much more quiet, and that foot passengers could cross more easily. The principal railway companies were taking measures to establish a convenient and economical system of conveyance to and from the railway stations. At Manchester business is much re-stricted by the strike of the Stockport spinners. This has also affected the trade at Stockdale. The wool market is quiet, and prices much easier. At Halifax the yarn and wool market is firm; enquiries for food are made, but not extensively, and at Huddersfield, the cloth hall, and the warehouses were dall. In the wool market more was done at easier prices, in consequence of a slight decline at the London sales.

On the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd August, abundant supplies of Foreign wheat and oats were received in London, but former rates were maintained. At Hull, the farmers occasionally submitted to a reduction of occasionally submitted to a reduction of one shilling from the sales of the previous week. At Dublin, on the 20th July, white wheat made from 26s. to 31s; reddo, 25s. to 29s. 6d.; barley 13s. to 16s. 6d., and oats 10s. to 13s. 3d. per quarter. The average price of wheat in Great Britain for the last six weeks is 49s. 4d. per quarter. The rot has again appeared in the potatoe. The stock of sugar at Havannah on the 8th June, was 240,000 boxes.

Our Plymouth correspondent has referred to the latest state of the Turkish question. In the House of Lords, on the 8th August, Lord Clarendon observed that he had no hesitation in saying, that he considered the immediate and complete evacuation of the Principalities as a sine quá non of any agreement with Russia. On the same evening, his Lordship stated as a correcevening, his Lordship stated as a correc-tion of previous intelligence from Jassy, that the Russian government had not exacted or demanded the tribute due from the Hospodars to the Porte, but had only forbidden its transmission to Constantinople. Letters from this last capital of the 28th ult. state that the Porte had issued a protest specially directed against the appropriation by the Russians of the tribute of Moldavia and Wallachia: so that there can be no doubt Wallachia; so that there can be no doubt that the earlier and fuller statement of Letters from Vienna, of the 6th, state that the Czar's readiness to "receive the ambassador, of the Sultan" is the real gist of the message from 8t. Petersburgh which has made so much noise during the last few days. Direct negotiations with the Porte in the capital of the Czar are, above all things desired by Russia. The intervention of France and England would thus be practically got rid of, and the Porte exhausted by delays, would hardly fail to surrender the whole ultimatissimum of Prince Menc'.koff.

In both House of Parliament, ministers have promised to give every infor-ters have promised to give every infor-mation in their power relative to the negotiations with Russia, previous to the adjournment. In the Commons, on the 9th instant, the House went into committee upon the Transportation Bill, when Lord Palmers on gave an exposition of the views of the Government upon the subject of secondary punishments. The question, he observed, was one of extreme difficulty. The object of punishment was to make it a penalty to the offender, and an example to others, without shocking the feel ings of the community, and at the same time to combine reformation with punishment. Hitherto our colories had enabled us to make transportation beyond the seas one of our secondary punishments; but this resource having now failed,—the being brought into contact with our cri-minals, and a great event having changed the condition of our Australian colonies, -the system must be altered. The first result to which the Government were led was the necessity of ceasing to transport offenders to the colo-nies, except a small number to Western Australia; and the bill proposed to empower the Court to alter the sentences. It was proposed that after a cer-tain period of preliminary imprisonment the offender should be capable of receiving a ticket of leave in this country, liable to a ticket of leave in this country, liable to be revoked. He thought that with regard to a great portion of those who were sentenced to transportation, reformation was by no means a hopeless object, and every effort would be made to accomplish it. When those persons who had conditional tickets of leave were to be released, the grave question arose, where were they to go, and how were they to be employed? He had every reason to believe that means would every reason to believe that means would be found of giving all these persons embe found of giving all these persons employment upon the public works, apart from the convicts, at suitable wages, from which occupation, without a stigma, they might slide into the ordinary avocations of honest industry. The charge for providing additional accommodation would be borne by the public; but, as the cost of transporting criminals would be no longer incurred, there would be a very considerable annual saving of expenditure. The whole system must be considered in a great degree experimental; but he been opened with considerable eclat by to which he referred. Sir J. Pakington President Pierce, whose state of heelth and other honorable members expressed would scarcely permit him to go through their opinions upon the general question, the fatiguing ceremony. That the preserve a tendency to increase a power given to the queen in Conneil to grant charters with limited a liability. The rule was, that in cases a power given to the queen in Conneil to grant charters with limited a liability. rule was not very easy of application, and the present Government had only granted two, viz., to the Australian Voyage and the Submarine Telegraph Companies The reason for that was, that where companies were in the same trade, it became a competition, not between partnerships but between incorporated companies. He would mention the number of competing companies with the Australian Voyage—namely, the Royal Mail Steam, the Pacific Steam, the Indian and Australian, the General Screw, the Eastern Steam Navigation, the General Australian Hoyal Mail, and the Australian Hoyal Mail, and the Australian and Pacific Transcommittee. tralasian and Pacific. Tasman and the Orion sailed from Deal for Sydney.

The departures from the port of London for the Australian colonies during the week ended 6th August, show an increase, several of the vessels being of the larger class. They comprised altogether 13; six for Port Phillip, with an august the burden of 2 821 tests. with an aggregate burden of 2,821 tons; three to 8ydney, with an aggregate bur-den of 2,270 tons; one to Hobart Town, of 633 tons; one to Adelaide, of 512 tons; of 623 tons; one to Adelaide, of 512 tons; one to Launceston, of 409 tons; and one to Auckland, New Zealand, of 331 tons. Their total capacity was consequently 6,966 tons. The shipments of manufactures and ordinary merchandise continue extensive, and the late advance in freight is well maintained.

The total number of vessels preparing for the various notes of Australia on the

for the various ports of Australia, on the 2nd of August, at Liverpool, was 40, and the amount of registered tonnage 27,003. The sailings from that port, from the 28th July to the 3rd August, comprised four vessels for Melbourne, with an aggregate tonnage of 1139. The sailings of the voyage to be 32 days to India, and 35 to Australia. After this, we shall only require a bridge to render our communication with you perfect.

More bloodshedding was anticipated. In viding additional accommodation would be no longer incurred, the sulpny borne by the public; but, as the cost of transporting criminals would be no longer incurred, there would be a very considerable annual saving of expenditure. Superfine No. 2 flour had declined 50 to seem.

The Work stock market, the supply of the Australian ports during the month of July was as follows:—Moreton Bay and Sydney, one vessel, 997 tons; Melbourne, one, 1650 tons; and shouth of the whole system must be considered in great degree experimental; but he believed that this was the best mode that the silence of the Monsteur is of the Australian ports during the month to seem.

The Rmigration Commissioners have taken a pacific turn, but the legal heir, the effect was such that Sir bourne and Sydney, one, 1650 tons; and in the legal heir, the effect was such that Sir bourne and Sydney, one, 1650 tons; and in the legal heir, the effect was su Melbourne, ten, 6215 tons; making a in London, and that he had been contotal of twenty-two vessels and an aggrevicted of horse stealing, and sentenced to death, but the sentence was commuted. colonies is to be liable to be transported for seven years, or to be imprisoned for four years. The act is not to apply to colonies already provided with such laws. The London Gazette, of August 9th, announces that the Queen has been pleased to appoint Sir Henry Barkley, K.C.B., to be Captain General and Go-vernor in Chief in and over the island of Jamaica and its dependencies.

The obituary of the week ended 7th August, announces the decease of Lord

Ruthven, and the Earl of Seafield. The commercial editor of the Times states that "the Board of Trade returns for the month ending the 5th of July continue to furnish results sufficient to explain the increasing demand for money, as well as the inconsiderate independence of the working classes now manifesting itself by strikes in all now manifesting itself by strikes in all parts of the country. As compared with the corresponding month of last year, the declared value of exportations again shows an enormous increase, the difference being £1,003,637. This augmentation is still satisfactorily spread over every branch of production, the only item in which there is a falling off of the slightest importance being wool, which, as on former occasions, has simply been retained at home, because the extraordias on former occasions, has simply been retained at home, because the extraordinary demand of our own manufacturers prevent us from sparing any for shipment. At the same time, however, that the prosperity exhibited has been evidently shared by all departments of trade, the heads under which the greatest increase is observable are such as to denote that the attractions which a few years back occupied an entirely subordinate place, presents now the largest total in the entire list, after the four great items of cotton, woollen, and linen manufactures, and metals. The aggregate value of British exports during the first six months of the year has been £41,866,537, against £33,549,392, showing an increase of £8 31,165 for forgery and perjury, and he was com-mitted to Gloucester gaol for trial on these charges, instead of figuring as Sir Richard Smyth. The sentence of death passed upon Caroline Sherwood, at the last Sussex assizes, for the murder of her child, had been commuted to transportation for life A similar commutation of punishment had also taken place in the case of Jane Chenworth, convicted at the recent as-sizes at Bodmin of drowning a child entrusted to her by its mother, under pretence of having occasion to leave it for a short time to make some purchases, but with the intention, as subsequent events proved, of deserting it. Ann Marshall, who with two other persons was convicted at the last High Court of Justiciary at Edinburgh of throwing a man out of the window of a brothel, whereby he was killed on the spot, has also been reprieved by her Majesty, but the law has been left to take its course upon her accomplices, Hans Smith Macfarlane and

Helen Blackwood. A Mr. Cooke, of Leicester, has an nounced an excursion by railway to Scot-land; and, as this is the first of the kind, he offers to stop the train for a time at Gretna, for the convenience of those "about to marry."

A number of ladies in Leeds have subscribed for, and purchased a silver fruit or cake basket, which, with a purse of £100, is to be presented to Mrs. Stowe, the au-thoress of "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Herald, there is a pause in the flow of the tide of emigration. The check, it appears, is timely, for already there are serious apprehensions that it will be stiment to find hands at a reasonable rate.

bian Principalities is not enough; but we may hope that, if it is prolonged, the English Cabinet will at last consider it a cases bells.

Austria hardly knows which way to turn. "Though she knows perfectly well how to be ungrateful," as Count Sch wartz aburg promised Lord Ponsonby, she is well aware that if she displeases Russis, the Russian army would like nothing better than to turn round upon her, for it detects everything derman, and in Hungary learned to detest the Austrians in particular. The counsellors of the beardless Emperor also know that the Magyars will surely be from with the ensemies of the Hapsburgs, whoever they may be, whether Frenchmen or Russians. Accordingly it is not an ultimatum that the Four Powers have sent to St. Petersburg, but rather a series of plans from which the Autocrat is to pick and choose whichever he likes best.

Reischid Pacha declares that he has gone to the furthest possible limits of concessions, and that however pacific any ministry might be, it could not without loss of honor grofurther.

TURKEY.

(From the Foreign Correspondent of the Morning Adsertiser, August 19.)

The crews of the British fl et in Besika Bay are animated by the best spirit, the most desirable seal and display the greatest impatience for action. All that a fleet can do this will do the carrier of the Cabinet with such a feeling among the naval forces is therefore double culpable. England will never again perhaps have such an opportunity of humiliating results of the Cabinet with such a mothing, the shame that will be reflected upon her will be inamense. On the other hand, if she destroys the two Russian fleets, the power and prestige of Russis are at one overthrown. Germany, on which Russis now weighs so heavily and so fatally, would shake off her influence and would incline towards France. France can throw thirty thousand men into Turkey, and having thus once acquired a foothold would soon find means to send 100,000 more who would form an armed camp at Adrianople—a scheme which Marshall Marmont warmly recommended in the event of a war in Turkey against Russis.

No doubt it is quite true there does not exist any animosity between Russia and Rogland; but politics are not matters of sontinent, but of principles and interest. Are the Russians to attempt an invesion or two of England, as the French have done, before they can provake her hostility? The occupation of the Danubian Principalities is not enough; but we may hope that, if it is prolonged, the English Cabinet will at last consider it a means belli.

Austria hardly knows which way to tura.

100 head of mixed Cattle
20 Milch Cows

A Dray and 10 working Bullocks
20 Brood Mares.

M. R. A. POLACK respectfully announces to the capitalists of New South Wales generally, that he has been instructed to sell without reserve, by public auction, st 11 o'clock precisely, on the morning of THURS-DAY, 34th day of November next, unless previously disposed of by private contract, on account of the Proprietor proceeding to Europe, at the Long Room, Russell's Hotel, Pitt-street, The following very highly and estimable valued property, situate in the county of Westmoreland, near to the town of Hartley, (to which it is approached by a well-formed substantial road), and known by the name of ROSE DAIR, containing by estimation according to the surveys in the office of Lieutenant-colonel Sir Themss Livingstone Mitchell, knight, surveyor-general of the solony of New South Wales, ONE THOUSAND ACRES of the richest alluvial deposits that can be found to the westward of the PENRITH PUNT or the Nepean River.

It is just over the mountains of the West, assuming the character of a deep indigo blue, that lies the town of Hartley, situated on the river Lett, 78 miles from Sydney, of which part of the country, according to the proclamation in the archives of the office of the Colonial Secretary, known as the county of Cook, it is the capital, and from this port town of Hartley, about ten miles distant, on the meandering banks of the RIVER GAMBANAO lies the splendid and enchanting estate of ROSE DALE surrounded by the well-known properties and estates of W. C. Wentworth.

it is the capital, and from this port town of Hartley, about ten miles distant, on the mean-dering banks of the RIVER GAMBANANG lies the splendid and enchanting estate of ROSE DALE surrounded by the well-kinoun properties and estates of W. C. Wentworth, Esq., M.L.C., James Nctio. Esq. of Elswick, Thomas Wills, Esq., David Ramsay, Esq., J.P., Jeremiah Grant, Esq., and other highly influential and important landed proprietors, adjoining the boundaries of the Royal Australian Domain Reserves, and Hunting Grounds, belonging to her Most Gracious Majesty the QUREN OF ENGLAND, VICTORIA I., which is quite sufficient to prove its valuable locality.

This estate, consisting of 1000 acres, dates its origin from the year 1813, when Messrs. Wentworth, Blaxland, and Lawson determined during a severe drought, which had burnt up the herbage in the eastern part of the territory, and caused a severe mortality among the cattle, to cross the Blue Mountains in search of a pastoral country to the westward. This was happily accomplished, though with incredible difficulty, by the resolute discoverers abovenamed, who succeeded in reaching this extensive pastoral district, which during the short space of forty years has been converted from the horrid and trackless wilderness—the transient resting place of some migratory tribe of naked and unideased savages—into the busy mart of civilised and enlightened intercourse; and where the tastes, the pursuits, the comforts, and even the elegancies of English society, are valued and enjoyed to a far more substantial extent than in many of the large counties of Great Britain itself.

It also commands a run of some 50,000 acres of land, thus rendering it a cattle and sheep run of the first class. It is also proverbial for its never-failing supply of forage, even in the dricst seasons, and it is a positive fact that during the long drought of 1839, &c., with which the colony was affected, that bullocks have been procured from this land of plenty, weighing on an average from 600 to 800 lbs., and for huts, stables, &c., &c., &c., as well as every accommodation requisite for so princely a domain as Rosedale.

There are also 6000 SHEEP, being a fair average lot of fair proportions as to ages and sexes. They are to be delivered immediately after shearing, and ALL LAMBS under six months old, to be given in.

The whole are warranted sound, and never to have been diseased; about one-half of which are ewes.

The Auctioneer has been instructed publicly to attet, for the information of the flockmasters and others, that it is the finest quality of SHEEP ever off-red for public competition on any one occasion; and he has been assured by the proprietor, and other competent judges, that these flocks are inferior to none in the colony, and such a character has the WOJL obtained in England, that even during the most depressed state of the markets it has been much sought for, and on all occasions has realized first-rate prices.

There is also a mixed lot of CHCICE CATTLE, comprising 100 HRAD, also 20 PRIME DAIRY COWS.

The greater part of the above cattle are from

CATTLE, comprising 100 HRAD, also 20 PRIME DAIRY COWS.

The greater part of the above cattle are from the celebrated herds of gentlemen whose attention in procuring the best imported bulls, regardless of the expense and judgment in the careful selection of their breeding herds, are well known to all the graziers of the colony. The present proprietor has been equally attentive to these important objects since he became possessed of this valuable herd, and the result is that the present stock are equal; if not superior, to the justify famed SEGEN-HOE CATTLE, famerly the property of P. Porter Macqueen, Esq.

CATTLE in this district are not to be obtained at any price, for they are nearly all driven off to the MELBOURNE MARKET.

There is a strong well-made BAYLISS

There is a strong well-made BAYLISS DRAY, with a team of TEN casily managed and hard WORKING BULLOCKS, in capital order. TWENTY high-bred BROOD MARES, got by some of the first imported entires, well known for their BLOOD, BONE, and ACTION.

MARES, got by some of the first imported entires, well known for their BLOOD, BONE, and ACTION.

Mr. A. Polack, in making these few remarks, is perfectly satisfied of his incompetency to point out the many other advantages this most invaluable property possesses, suffice it to say, that should any of the mercantile branches of the community purchase THE ESTATE OF ROSEDALE, they might be enabled to induce respectable families among the industrious ranks of society at home to transfer their capital and labour from an arena where the whirl of competition stands formidably in the way of successful exertion, to a field where, not competency alone, but certain fortune, can hardly fail to reward the efforts of careful, persevering, and honourable toil.

A plan is on view at the Rooms of the Auctioneer, where all further particulars respecting the property may be sacertained.

The probability is that after Christmas many of the gold diggers now in the southern fields will turn their attention to the Turon gold mines, where doubtless much of the precious metal still lies undiscovered. Town allotments will then be in great demand, and as these are situated in the heart of the tawnship, and were selected by the present proprietor at the original Government sales, in a capital locality for business purposes, parties on the look-out for building sites in that flourishing township, will do well to attend this sale.

M. R. MORT has received instructions to sell by public suction, at his Rooma, Pitt-street, on WEDNESDAY, the 26th of Ostober, at 12 o'clock precisely, THE ROYAL HOTEL, Auburn-street, Goulburn, standing upon one sere of ground, and situate about the centre of Auburn-street, with a frontage of 132 feet by a depth of 330 feet.

This splendid edifice is most substantially built of brick, the outside and centre walls of 18 inch work, the ground floor walls of 18 inches, and the upper floor partition walls 19 inch work. The front and end walls are stuccoed on the outside, and the back wall is neatly pointed with guaged arches.

The Hotel contains in the basement extensive and convenient cellars beneath the bar and back parlour, the walls of which are of stone 2 feet thick, and the accommodation is most complete, comprising as follows:

On the ground floor—entrance hall with commodious cedar staircase, front and back parlour, bar, tap-room, three bed-room and pantry.

On the first floor—three large narlows, two.

On the ground floor—entrance hall with commodious cedar staircase, front and back parlour, bar, tap-room, three bed-room and pantry.

On the first floor—three large parlours, two of which open into each other, with large folding doors, forming a splendid dising room 36 feet by 17 feet; also hall and passage, the latter running along the whole building, and affording access into five bed rooms.

The parlours in the upper florr are all fitted with French lights, and connected with a balcony running along the front of the building, secured with nest scroll castiron baluisters, and supported on castiron cantelevers.

The whole of the cedar work throughout the Hotel is equal to Spanish mahagany, and finished in a superior style—panelled and varnished. The rooms throughout are 12 feet high; and the parlour, bar, hall, lobby, and staircase oil painted, and finished with connices and centres; and the principal rooms throughout fitted with register stoves.

The staircase, of cedar, is a rare piece of workmanship, beautifully finished.

In the rear of the Hotel is a weatherboard and covered passage, leading to the KITCHEN and LAUNDRY, both brick-built, in a most substantial manner; and over which is a large BILLIARD ROOM, 36 feet 6 by 20 feet 6, and 16 feet high, with splendid cornice and centres in stucco. The walls and celling are oil painted, and the cedar work and fittings of a character with that in the Hotel. In the rear of the kitchen is a BAKEHOUSE, with first-rate oven, and a Shed.

Opposite the end of the Billiard Room is a range of Briek Buildings, with 14 inch walls, comprising Entrance Passage, NURSERY and BEDROOM, cach 20 feet by 11 feet 6; at the end of which is a Fowl-house and Water-closet. The whole of these Buildings, as well as the Kitchen and Billiard Room, are stuccoed on the outside, and w'll finished in every respect.

Parallel with the Hotel, in the rear of the Yara, is a MAGNIFICENT RANGE OF STABLING, 115 feet long by 18 feet 6 wide, containing 13 stalls, extensive Coach-house and Maddie Room: a missed throughout, with blocking course and raised centre, and ornamental cornice; and the whole of the interior fittings are of a superior character.

The premises are entered upon on either side by folding gates, flunked by dwarf walls and nest paling.

In the rear of the allotment is a beautiful garden, well laid out and stocked with choice fruit trees.

Mr. Mort begs to call the attention of capitalists to this important property now offered for sale in one of the most thriving townships in the colony, situated on the high road to the southern gold seleds. Goulburn has for a long period been the depot from whence the digging population have obtained their supplies, and it is famous for its magnificent buildings, and especially the hotels, which are not equalled by any in the metropolis. Conspicuous amongst the whole stands the Royal Hotel, the one invariably patronized by the gentlemen of the bar during circuit, and always remarkable for its gorgeous fittings and splendid accommodations.

On the 9th of September instant, land was sold with frontage to Auburn-street as high as £26 per foot to parties on the spot, who could well appreciate the growing importance of their beautiful township, which is rapidly extending in every direction.

Independent of the large block of land, one acre in the centre of the township, the immense pile of buildings and the good-will of so fine and well known an establishment, the climate of Goulburn must not be overlocked, approximating the mild winter of England, and adapted to the cultivation of English fruits, the whole conbined off-ring advantages rarely to be met with, and at a period too when the colony is just attracting the attention of the whole world, and taking a most prominent position among nations.

any portion of our wealth for such purposes; but will also evince a desire for the promotion of colonial enterprise.

To the merchants of Van Diemen's Land, Adelaide, and New Zealand, who require such an auxiliary as the possession of a colonial steamship, it is not required in any peculiar manner to point out to them the advantages derivable from the trade to be carried into effect by this vessel. Suffice it that their trade demands it, and that they should not let another power take that from them which they can procure for themselves by the purchase of this ship.

O As an investment for those interested in the trades of those rising localities, Moreton Bay, Wide Bay, the Clarence and Richmond Rivers, Warnambool and Port Fairy, and other posts, too numerous to name in detail, but which are obvious to all, a loss of the purchase of this vessel ought and will be considered as a local drawbsek on the prospects of those rising localities, as the want of such a power has long been felt in those trades. The many complaints which are daily made relative to vessels having cargoes on board, by reason of their stranding on bar harbours, will be all removed by those interested, inasmuch as when this superior vessel is fully laden abwill only draw 9 feet—a desideratum which is much required in these times of advancement, when "time can only be placed in juxtaposition with steam."

It may, in passing, be remarked that the Company part with this splendid vessel only tion with steam.

It may, in psssing, be remarked that the Company part with this splendid vessel only on account of the shortly expected arrival of their new fleet, when they will have no further occasion for her services.

N.B. An inventory of her stores may be seen at Mr. Mort's rooms, and the vessel, as she now lies, may be inspected by intending purchaseers previous to sale, at the works of the Company, Pyrmont.

and is about four miles distant from the top of the Rock. There are thirty men now mining at this new spot, and they report favourably of it, but the recent fall of rain has impeded water. A store is about to be built, and we instigipate an influx of diggers to this locality.

A very enterprising party of Californians have cut an extensive race, measuring in the aggingate six or seven miles. This will be a great aquisition to these diggings, as those parts which were espaile of being worked in the autument time will have no lack of pure water for shuking, tomming, and eradling. water for sluicing, tomming, and cradling. A large reservoir has been made at the top of large reservoir has been made at the top of the main range, which will give a regular and constant supply of water. The Californians have purchased one or two remaining claims on the old dry diggings, which are considered worked out, for the purpose of sluideing them, their operations will not be confined to the purchased claims, but will comprise the whole of the dry diggings; they are now cutting immense races ir conveying water to them, and although there will be a great amount of labour requisite before they can work them; we do not hesitate in stating that they will get a handsome reward for their labour and cepital.

Ford's party at the junction of the main creek with Nuggetty Guilly have been very successful, they have got as much as fity-three license this month, and no one thinks of evading to fee now. Many parties now go prospecting, whereas before the reduction of the license they were compelled to abandon idea of doing so. We hear no complaints whatever from the miners.

We are happy to find such active steps being taken to repress drunkenness and gambing on the Sanoath-day; this will sfird infinite gratification to those persons who venerate the Lord's Day, we also feel much pleasure in seeing notices at the several stores, stating that no business of any kird will be transacted on Sundays, under a penalty. Butcher's shops are allowed to be kept open till 10 o'cl. ck. These diggings have always been quiet and orderly, especially so on the Sunday, they will, however, be even more so, as the stores will be closed.

THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND COL-LEGE.

To the Editor of the Sydney Morning Herald, Sia, Perceiving by the prospectus which has appeared in your columns, of the Church of England College, which it is proposed to establish under the patronage of the Bishops of New Z-sland and Newcastle, and the Archdeacon of Cumberlard, that a meeting of the subscribers is to be heid on the 4th November, when, among other objects the name which the Institution is to bear shall be determined. I beg leave to make one or two remarks on the untiring seat the union of Churchmen was to be accribated.

Now, although the name which the College may bear, is of little moment, compared with the principles on which it is founded, and the manner in which its discipline is regulated, I submit that to make any attempt to alter the designation agreed to on such an occasion, and under such circumstances, unless there he some very arrong grounds for so doing—will be unwise and unjudicious in the extreme. I have reason to believe that the idea of such an attempt being made has already tended to keep beck some who would have joined in the movement, and I fear greatly that should it be made on the 4th proximo, the effect will be to arouse unpleasant feelings and unkindly suspicious which will retard and hinder, if to arouse unpleasant teelings and unkindly suspicions which will retard and hinder, if not defeat the object in contemplation.

The Church of England has too long suffered from the disunion of her members in their plans and proceedings to extend her operations. But union can only be effected by self-denial and sacrifice of personal opinion and feeling for the general good. In this spirit I am myself prepared to act, and while I most earnestly degreeate the idea of the pri posed, or at least talked of, alteration, I would urge all parties to unite their efforts to secure a happy co-operation.

I would add many arguments in support of what I have advanced, but I trust they will what I have not be required. Praying that that the spirit of wisdom and Praying that that the spirit of wisdom and present, I remain, Sir.

AN INTENDING SUBSCRIBER.

THE COTION PLANT.

To the Editor of the Sydney Morning Herald,
Bin,—Looking over my letters this morning,
I came across one from the Honorabe
Mr. Springer. of Babuloes, under date 10th December, 1851, one of the most successful cotton planters in that bland. It was written at the across when the impost may of cutton as at the period when the importance of cotton as at the period when the importance of oction as a source of industry was attracting universal attention in the West It dies, and was in answer to an application addressed to that gentleman, soliciting information generally on the cultiva-tion. As it is a subject in which some of your tion. As it is a subject in which some of your agriculturists take an interest, I give it you for publication, as the perusal will, doubtless, generate thoughts and comprisons which may tend to good ramits. I do not mean to say that the system of cultivation pursued at Barbadoes is that to be followed here, as climate and soil modify and alter systems, but general principles remain identical.

The cotton plant is subject to various diseases, and seldom escapes experiencing, more or ions, every year some one or other of these diseases. "Of all the productions to which human labour is applied the cotton plant in the most precarious," on ears an elequent and correct writer; and our own experience confirms in every respect the truth of the remarks. There are various kinds of cotton, which are now being cultivated in the Wart Indee, and we chould say, from what we have seen and heard, that all the lands are not the seen of the cotton, which are now being cultivated in the ward heard, that all the lands and the seen of the cotton, which saids to be a seen and heard, that all the lands are not to the cotton of the cotton of the lands of an elevated aspect, which easily receive most lands of an elevated aspect, which easily receive most lands of an elevated aspect, which would plant does not desight in a humin stimusphere—a dry wholesome air is congenist to its growth and productiveness. We have frequently remarked that the hearer to the sea it is planted the better provided you can prevent the wind from scorching it. The planten is St. Luey's (one of the Leward Parisles) do this by planting several rows of Guinea corn early in Ray dowe the land appropriated to cotton, and gasoon as the corn comes sufficiently high to break off the wind, they plant the cotton. This is done in breadths of eight or after own, or favour, if very near the wind; and thus a double row of Guinea corn, to keep the wind from injuring the lower parts of the field. The cotton planting used they are planting whiler now. When it is planted thick, the lower branches of the trees, being secuences and consequently it gives more to the sect. In saying this, i large reservoir has been made at the top of the main rarge, which will give a regular and coestant supply of water. The Caifornians have purchased one or two remaining claims on the old dry diggings, which are considered worked out, for the purpose of aluicing them, their operations will not be ordined to the purchased claims, but will comprise the whole of the dry diggings; they are now cutting immense races it reconveying water to them, and although there will be a great amount of labour requisite before they can work them; we do not hesitate in stating that they will get a handsome reward for that labour and capital.

Ford's party at the jurction of the main creek with Naggetty Guily have been very successful, they have got as much as fifty-three eucres of gold in the creek, and sometimes get a pound witching the personnel of the creek, and sometimes get a pound witching the personnel of the creek, and sometimes get a pound witching the creek. Bluicing that they struck upon thevein of good, which seminor to un up the creek. Eluicing certainly does passes a great alvantage over the old method of crading and tomming, as great smount of washing-attiff can be put through the sluice in a little time, a that if each busket of sol shuld not yield mire than one farthing's warth of gold, it will prive well; again in stripping the sides of mountains and b mks they expose a great facing, so that if there should be a vein of gold in any part they mu t fall on it. Such is the superiority of cluicing over crading that nearly every guily and creek capable of heing sluiced is taken up by parties for that purpose.

The reduction of the license fee was hailed by the diagers with the greatest enthusiasm, and they appear to be perfectly attisfied with the decision of the Commissioner had very little iroul le in collecting she license thismonth, and no one thinks of evading the first of the surface of farthy the surface of the first converting the sides of mountains and brisk of evading the first converting the sides of mountain

A BRAUTIFUL VILLA RESIDENCE, situate close to the township of Port Macquarie, on the high land south of Flegatsfi, and well known as ARNCLIFFF, the late residence of Arthur G. Halleran, Esq. The Cettage is weatherboard and bricknogged, containing 8 rooms and verandsh on three sides, with wings extending from the back, containing nursery, servants' room, pantry, store, and harness room, kitchen with patent stove, yard and stables, and every convenience for a large family. The premises stand upon 6 acres of ground, a large portion of which forms a paddock round the cottage, and the remainder of the 6 acres is laid out as a garden and vineyard, well stocked with choice trees and vines—the whole fenced in. In the house paddock is a capital well of water.

This is one of the most beautiful spots in the vicinity of Port Macquarie. The house is on the cliffs, close to the oce un, commanding an extensive view of the bo'd head'ands on either side, and well situated for comfort and healthfulnes.

A Plan is in course of preparation.

RICHMOND. Brew's Stores and Premises.

Day of Sale, TUESDAY, November 8, 1853.

R. MORT has received instructions from Mr. W. E. Brew, who is about to leave the colony, to sell by rublic auction, at his Rooms, Pitt-street, on TUESDAY, the 8th November, at 11 o'clock,

The following when Property situated at

Sin November, at 11 o'clock,
The following valuable Property, situated at Richmond, about 40 miles from Eydney, and well known as BREW'S STORES and PREMISES, and
THE POST OFFICE,
standing upon a block of land, having a frontage of 65 feet 5 inches, more or less, to the main street, and comprising the follow-

Height of first fi sor, 10 feet.
Attic—2 rooms, 18 feet by 16 feet, height of wall, 6 feet 3 inches; and in centre, 7 feet 6 inches. At a small expense these could be converted into 6 good rooms. Balcony at the back the whole length of the building, commanding an extensive and beautiful view, and capacious vertandah in front.
THE OUT-OFFICES consist of a detached kitchen, with a sleeping room, stable for three horses, gig house, two small granaries, and other conveniences, the whole ferming the most compact business premises in the town. In the rear are a few fruit trees and good vines in full bearing, and there is a right of commonage attached, which is sufficient for keeping a few milking cows.

ing, and tests in attached, which is sufficient for keeping a few milking cows.

* * To a new comer a first-rate opportunity is now offered of falling into a good business, with a well established and extensive connection, without any trouble.

The district is well known as one of the most fertile and populous in the colony, and a general store, conducted upon liberal principles, must ensure success. The locality is remarkable for being the most English-like village in New South Wales. It is most salubrious, and surrounded not only by innumerab e small farms, but also by the estates of several of the most respectable colonists. The merab e small farms, but also by the extates or several of the most respectable colonists. The road is good, and carriage moderate, the dis-tance very convenient, and daily communica-tion with Sydney by first rate conveyances, well horsed. The house is well and substan-tially built, and with a little alteration would make a first class residence or capital aca-demy; but as a general store it cannot be sur-passed. Plan of the house on view at the Rooms.
